CONTINUING EMPLOYMENT DOCUMENTS AND RESOURCES

- Minnesota Personnel File Guidance

This checklist provides a list of documents Minnesota employers are advised to include in an employee's personnel file. It also describes the manner in which these documents should be maintained.

- Sample Minnesota EEO Policy

This template equal employment opportunity policy summarizes the employer's commitment to diversity, including its refusal to tolerate discrimination and harassment. The policy also addresses pregnancy accommodations and wage disclosure protections.

- Performance Review

This employee performance review should be completed by the employee's manager or supervisor at least once per year. It allows the employee's manager or supervisor to assess the employee's performance during the year or past performance period. The performance review should be signed by the employee and the employee's manager or supervisor. An original copy should be kept by the company in the employee's personnel file and copies should be given to the employee and the employee's manager or supervisor.

- Disciplinary Notice

This disciplinary notice should be used to document verbal or written warnings given to employees regarding unsatisfactory areas of their job performance, which the employee must correct in order to avoid further disciplinary action, up to and including termination. The notice should be signed by the employee and the employee's manager or supervisor. An original copy should be kept by the company in the employee's personnel file and copies should be given to the employee and the employee's manager or supervisor.

- Performance Improvement Plan (PIP)

This document should be provided to an employee whose job performance is unsatisfactory. The purpose of this PIP is to confirm the company's expectations for the employee (in as much detail as possible) going forward and to ensure immediate, significant and sustained improvements in the areas described in the document. The goals set forth in the PIP must be reasonable. The PIP should be signed by the employee and the employee's manager or supervisor. An original PIP should be kept by the company in the employee's personnel file and copies should be given to the employee and the employee's manager or supervisor.

- Minnesota Leaves of Absence Guide

This document is a quick reference guide to determine which leaves of absences apply to companies with a certain number of employees under Minnesota law.
